Jeff! It was great to meet you, I really appreciated your openness during our casual chat-while-cooking, and also enjoyed your personal posts and impressive programming projects. Absolutely loved learning from you over the past couple of months! – Anonymous

You're a very cool person Jeff! Really liked your projects during the batch. From the BitTorrent client, to the kernel of truth. Wish you the best for the future! – Fabrizzio

Thank you for sharing your learning notes - they made it clear that while I'm slacking off, there is someone, somewhere, getting at as much Computer Science as they can manage. – Ilia Demianenko

I met you at my Q/A and I want to thank you for taking the time to have hosted that session. You very kindly answered all our questions and made me feel more relaxed about entering RC! Thank you for your time and insights! Best of luck! – Sahira

You're a great communicator and your passion for software in inspiring! Excited to see what's in store for you after Waterloo! – Chetan Kini

Thanks for letting me sit in on your BitTorrent client programming session that one time. I definitely had no idea what was going on but it was still cool, especially seeing Rust in action for the first time. I'm glad you've decided to extend because I feel like you're always working on interesting things and I can't wait to see what you come up with next. I'd love to be a fly on the wall if you work on anything pythonic in the next 6 weeks. – Kelly Foulk

One of the highlights of my batch was pair programming with you on my art project. Another was getting to know you. I can't wait for you to come to New York and for us to hang out in person – Rachel Ehrlich

Jeff is awesome! He works really hard and I found his online notes pretty interesting. He has the most relaxing Zoom background I've seen at RC so far :P I enjoyed a long coffee chat with him about all sorts of topics, and I'm glad he's back for the Spring 2 batch at RC :) – Anonymous

Jeff! It was fun chatting w you and the things you presented were impressive. But most of all I'm excited to see what you end up doing post RC! Stay in touch. Take a break from writing kernels and do some video game dev one of these days... – Colin Karpfinger

Jeff, I am so impressed with how you managed school, book groups, making the torrent client with Eleanor... Wow. Can't wait to see you at future RC events and see what cool stuff you've been working on! – Becca Holley
